

INSTRUCTIONAL DESIGN AND TECHNOLOGY/UMKC ONLINE

Online courses can take a variety of forms, from online synchronous to online asynchronous. Make sure you understand the requirements for each type of online course before you register. Definitions used for the delivery of online courses at UMKC can be found at the Registrar's page under the Codes and Definitions.

Additional information related to online training, courses, tutoring and other resources that support online learning can be found at the UMKC Instructional Design & Technology homepage located at: <https://idt.umkc.edu/>.

For more information regarding state authorization, including where distance education programs are approved, as well as a complete listing of distance education programs, please refer to the UMKC Online web page: <https://online.umkc.edu/>.